*i*FLEET.cz

On-line magazine for efficient fleet management and fleet administration

A modern communication portal for those who are involved in company car purchases, car administration and maintenance. Together with the FLEET firemní automobily magazine it makes a unique communication platform of the fleet management sector. The web portal is not just an internet counterpart of the print magazine, but offers a large number of additional functions, such as personal account set up and administration and communication among the registered users. MarketPoint application is devoted to the fleet suppliers who wish to set up a company presentation on the website and use it for communication with the registered users. Thus they can send them offers, exchange electronic mail and insert special offers which appear on the home page. Market-Point is a unique communication tool between fleet suppliers and fleet operators.

iFLEET.cz contains a rich information contents including a news archive since 2005. The Event directory provides the readers all necessary information about the forthcoming events as well as a rich media archive of the previous editions, such as photos, videos, press clippings, etc. Electronic newsletters are the other communication tool distributed to around 3000 registered recipients.

The portal offers various options for business presentation through advertising banners on the web or in newsletters, advertorials or Market-Point presentation.
